

Beyond Rwanda: A Fairer Way Forward on Asylum

In the ongoing saga of the Conservative Government's Rwanda asylum scheme, the truth is clear: it's destined to fail.

This policy is immoral, unworkable and extortionately expensive for the taxpayer. And it betrays our country's proud tradition of offering sanctuary to those in need.

When the Conservatives first came up with this scheme, we told them it was wrong and wouldn't work. It's unsurprising that three Home Secretaries and millions of taxpayers' pounds later, the Conservatives still have nothing to show for their failing Rwanda policy.

The fact that this Government is content to squander millions on a totally unworkable white elephant of a policy tells you everything you need to know about their priorities.

It will do nothing to stop dangerous Channel crossings, people trafficking or modern slavery. All Rishi Sunak cares about is acting tough. So much so that he's content to trample the rule of law and tear up human rights protection.

That's why this Conservative Government refuses to even consider doing what would actually work to stop the dangerous crossings – tackling the backlog and creating safe and legal routes for refugees.

Liberal Democrats have been clear – we have no faith in this failing scheme. Today, we have passed new policy to keep fighting this policy every step of the way, and to offer a positive alternative that would actually work:

- Scrap the Rwanda Scheme: This failing policy has cost taxpayers at least £241 million, money that could have been spent on crucial services.
- Uphold Human Rights: Reaffirm the UK's commitment to upholding the important human rights legislation, including the European Convention on Human Rights and the UN Refugee Convention.
- Tackle the Backlog: The asylum system is in disarray, with 128,000 people still waiting for an initial decision on their claim. The government should establish a new, dedicated unit to process claims quickly and fairly.
- Create Safe and Legal Routes: An expanded refugee resettlement scheme and the creation of humanitarian travel permits to undercut the people traffickers and help those fleeing war and violence.
- Give Asylum Seekers the Right to Work: Manage the costs of the system and give individuals a sense of dignity and purpose.

Read our new policy

It's time for the Conservative Government to admit defeat on the Rwanda scheme. It's not just failing; it's actively harming individuals and wasting taxpayer money.

Instead, let's focus on what truly works: tackling the backlog, creating safe routes, and upholding our commitment to human rights. As Liberal Democrats, we will continue to fight for a fairer and more compassionate asylum system.

The Death of Alexei Navalny

The death of Alexei Navalny on 16 February 2024, at the hands of Vladimir Putin is a shocking and harrowing tragedy. Navalny's widow, Yulia Navalnaya, has said that Navalny was 'tortured, starved, cut off and killed by Putin'.

Putin's despicable methods might be to kill his enemies, but he will never kill the light of freedom and democracy which Navalny has stood for so courageously.

It takes a special kind of bravery to do what Alexei Navalny did in 2021. Having been poisoned with a Novichok nerve agent by Putin's FSB, he was hospitalised in Germany. Yet he still chose to return to Russia, to fight for democracy, knowing he faced prison and risked his life.

It's been three long years since Navalny was sentenced to prison, and yet the UK government has failed to fully sanction all those named on the 'Navalny List'. Shockingly, nearly 1 in 5 individuals remain unsanctioned. This is unacceptable.

Right now, British national Vladimir Kara-Murza is unjustly imprisoned in Russia. The UK must make it a diplomatic priority to secure his release.

Putin's vile actions towards Navalny must also embolden us to support Ukraine further. There is no doubt about what Putin's plans are for Ukraine and Ukrainians. The UK must lead in Europe, to ensure that we and our allies step up to support Ukraine – while the US sadly wavers. That starts with seizing Russian assets in our country, and redirecting them for the purpose of funding Ukraine.

Today, Liberal Democrats have passed new policy calling for decisive action to increase the pressure on Putin's Russia:

- Sanctioning the 'Navalny list': Immediately impose sanctions on all those named as enablers of Putin's regime.

- Supporting British dual nationals: Enshrine in law a right for British dual nationals who have been politically detained to access UK consular services.
- Standing with Ukraine: Seize frozen Russian assets in the UK, with proceeds repurposed to finance support for Ukraine.
- Tackling economic crime: Take concrete steps to combat economic crime: finally publish the 'golden visas' review, close economic crime legal loopholes and properly fund the National Crime Agency to pursue Russian economic crime.

Navalny cast a light on the corruption of Putin and his cronies. His tragic death, at the hands of Putin, cannot and will not stifle the democratic ideals that he fought for. Together, let us be a voice that speaks for those who have been silenced.

Tackling Persistent Absence

The number of children persistently absent from school has doubled, with around one in five young people now missing 10% or more of their lessons. And rates of persistent absence are even higher among disadvantaged backgrounds, children with mental health conditions, and those with special education needs. This is not a problem that can be ignored or swept under the rug.

This alarming trend not only impacts their immediate education but also has far-reaching implications for their future opportunities and life chances.

The Conservatives have consistently let down children and parents, neglected schools and colleges, and failed to grasp the scale of the pandemic's damage to children's learning and mental health.

Liberal Democrats understand that education is the best investment we can make in our country's future. The reasons for absence are complex but we must make getting children back in the classroom a priority.

That's why, today, Liberal Democrats have passed new policy to encourage school attendance and support children who are struggling:

- Understanding the scale of the problem: Place a duty on local authorities to maintain a register of children who are not in school, providing funding for them to do so. This will provide crucial data to understand the extent of the issue and target interventions effectively.
- Mental Health Support: Provide a dedicated mental health professional in every school, ensuring that every child and parent has someone to turn to for help and support.
- Expansion of Free School Meals: Expand Free School Meals to all children on universal credit, addressing the link between poverty and school absence.
- SEND Funding: Tackle the crisis in Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) funding by providing extra funding to halve the amount that schools pay towards the cost of a child's Education, Health and Care (EHC) plan. Establish a National Body for SEND to fund support for children with high needs.
- Young carers: Improve identification of and support for young carers, helping them balance their caring responsibilities and their education.
- Permanently Excluded Pupils: Introduce a commitment that permanently excluded pupils must be placed with a registered provider.
- Clear Guidance for Parents: Give clear guidance to parents on when their child should be off school due to illness, helping to reduce unnecessary absences.
- Direct support: Roll out of a programme of education welfare officers and attendance hubs across England to work closely with families and schools.
- Teacher Home Visits: Train more teachers to undertake home visits, addressing underlying barriers to school attendance and providing targeted support.

Making school somewhere children want to be: A new commitment to sports, music, drama, and art will make school a place that pupils want to go, fostering a positive and engaging learning environment.

Every child can achieve great things. By investing in education, supporting families, and prioritising mental health and wellbeing, we can ensure that every child has the opportunity to thrive and reach their full potential.

Let us commit to building a future where every child feels safe, supported, and valued in our schools.

Are you drinking what we're drinking?

Untreated sewage is pouring into UK waters more than 1,000 times a day. Between 2020 and 2022, England's water companies used storm overflows over a million times, totalling a shocking 7.5 million hours. Millions of litres of water are lost to leaks each day. Just 3 in 20 of England's rivers are in a 'good' ecological state.

How did it get to this?

Since the Conservatives privatised English water companies, those companies have piled on £54 billion in debt and handed out £66 billion in dividends to shareholders. All while failing to properly invest in the infrastructure we need.

And they've been allowed to get away with it – by a toothless regulator and a Conservative government that doesn't seem interested in making polluters pay. The Environment Agency, severely underfunded, has struggled to enforce the law effectively.

The status quo is simply not working, and it's time for a new approach.

That's why today, Liberal Democrats have passed new policy to address this national scandal. Our plan is comprehensive and ambitious, aimed at transforming our waterways, protecting our environment, and holding water companies accountable for their actions.

- Ending Sewage Dumping: Set meaningful targets and deadlines for water companies to end sewage discharges.
- Sewage Tax: Introduce a tax on water company profits to fund the cleanup of waterways.
- Robust regulation: Abolish Ofwat and establish a new 'Coastal, Rivers and Lakes Authority' with strengthened regulatory powers to issue fines to the top executives of water companies and initiate prosecutions in extreme cases.
- Reform water companies: Turn water companies into public benefit companies so that particular economic and environmental policy objectives must be considered.

- Increase monitoring: End the current system of “self monitoring” and ensure unannounced spot checks are part of the new regulatory framework. Mandate that new monitors cover designated bathing waters and sites of environmental importance such as SSSIs.
- Local Empowerment: Give Local authorities increased powers to hold water companies accountable, with new water boards and catchment partnerships.
- Protecting Citizens: Extend the Freedom of Information Act to cover water companies and introduce a new ‘Sewage Illness Victim Compensation Scheme’. Permit citizens, charities and other groups to take water companies to court.
- Promoting Transparency: Require consumer representatives to be included on water company boards, and ensure bills clearly show where money is spent. Make water companies fund local environmental reporters.
- Investment and Innovation: Water companies will have 25-year investment plans, including nature-based solutions and innovative approaches to water management.
- Clean swims: Increase the number of designated bathing water sites to 1,500 by 2030. Set legally binding targets to prevent sewage dumping into bathing waters and highly sensitive nature sites.
- Eliminating water poverty: Create a new water social tariff, aiming to eliminate water poverty by the end of the next parliament. Ensure that energy retrofitting programmes also include measures to improve water resilience and cut bills.

Liberal Democrats are leading the charge to clean up our rivers, lakes and coastlines. It’s time to put an end to sewage dumping, protect our precious waterways, and ensure a sustainable water system for generations to come.
