

Long: Reckless attack could have had devastating consequences

Justice Minister Naomi Long has condemned those responsible for planting an explosive device at the car of a young mother and part-time police officer in Dungiven.

Weir welcomes further £4.83m Engage funding

Education Minister Peter Weir has announced a further £4.83m for the Engage Programme's school funding allocation, bringing the overall funding to £16m.

Conversion Therapy must end – Hargey

Speaking today in the Assembly, Communities Minister Deirdre Hargey said that so called 'conversion therapy' is a cruel and inhumane practice and it should be ended.

Unpaid carers are the backbone of society – Swann

Health Minister Robin Swann has given further details of a £4.4m scheme to support unpaid carers.

Economy Minister welcomes new legislation to protect Northern Ireland workers

Economy Minister Diane Dodds has welcomed new employment legislation which will benefit workers across Northern Ireland.