

It's time to take firm action and stop ticket touts ripping off music fans

Ticket touts used to be those dodgy guys who hung around outside stadiums or - concert halls with bundles of tickets in their pockets. But today, the ticketing business is a multi-million pound international concern and one of our biggest consumer crises.

Go to Source

Author:

Our action to end homelessness

Scotland's homelessness legislation is amongst the most progressive in the world. We have made huge progress in tackling homelessness, but we are aware of worrying signs of an increase in rough sleeping.

Go to Source

Author:

SNP MP Philippa Whitford on NHS England's breast-screening scandal

On Wednesday the health secretary, Jeremy Hunt, announced that an estimated 450,000 women in England were not invited to their final breast-screening mammogram, between the ages of 68 and 71, as a result of an IT failure dating back to 2009.

Go to Source

Author:

Made in Scotland: protecting Scotland's brand

Scotland's food and drink sector is vitally important to our economy – the industry is worth £14.4 billion and supports 119,000 jobs across the country.

Go to Source

Author:

We can't rely on the Tories for a fair society so we must do it ourselves

The devastating reality of Tory cuts became even clearer this week when the Trussell Trust published statistics showing that even more families are having to rely on foodbanks to get by.

Go to Source

Author: