

It's time to end rip-off parcel delivery charges

With Christmas fast approaching, millions of Scots will be hunting for online bargains.

Go to Source

Author:

Thanks to the Tories, this will be food banks busiest Christmas to date

Many more people are expected to go hungry this Christmas. I'm not talking about people in far-flung places, but in our own towns and communities. Food banks in the UK are expecting their busiest ever Christmas against a backdrop of growing need.

Go to Source

Author:

Theresa May, do your job and tackle tax avoidance or give Scotland the powers to do it for you

The Paradise Papers reveal the rotten core of our society, where the richest and most powerful are able to secrete their wealth abroad in order to avoid paying their fair share.

Go to Source

Author:

The cost of Tory government

It's now over seven and a half years since the Tories took office. People in Scotland are paying a high price for the decisions they have taken.

We've run up the cost.

Go to Source

Author:

Setting the record straight on broadband in Scotland

Scottish Conservative MPs at Westminster have spent the past weeks spread misinformation on the facts of broadband in Scotland. The Scottish Government's Cabinet Secretary responsible for digital connectivity, Fergus Ewing MSP, responded to their comments and set the record straight: Superfast broadband availability in Scotland has increased at a faster rate than other UK nations.

Go to Source

Author: