

The UK budget: the SNP's priorities

The UK Chancellor of the Exchequer is due to set out his budget plans on Wednesday 22 November 2017.

Go to Source

Author:

First Minister Nicola Sturgeon's speech to the UN Climate Change Conference in Bonn

Below is a speech given by Scotland's First Minister, Nicola Sturgeon, to the UN Climate Change Conference, COP23, in Bonn. Check against delivery.

Go to Source

Author:

Taking action on alcohol misuse: what you need to know

The UK Supreme Court has unanimously approved Scottish Government plans to introduce a minimum unit price for alcohol. This reaffirms the decision of the Court of Session, the highest court in Scotland.

Go to Source

Author:

Boris Johnson simply has to go

They say a week is a long time in politics, and for Theresa May it's probably felt like an eternity.

Tory Minister Priti Patel resigned last week – or she was fired according to which version you believe – following a humiliating charade when she was ordered back to Downing Street from a government trip in Kenya.

Go to Source

Author:

Delivering progressive government this week

This week Theresa May's dysfunctional government descended into farce. It's clear that the Tory government is unable to even get on with the day job – far less deliver a fairer country.

Go to Source

Author: