

Poorest in society will pay the price for Tory and Labour Brexit mess

The UK government have been forced to admit that food, medicines and blood would all need to be stockpiled to prevent them running out.

Go to Source

Author:

---

Independence is on the agenda

As the first of three planned National Assemblies gets underway today in Ayr, independence is firmly on the agenda.

Go to Source

Author:

---

How a no deal Brexit will affect our daily lives

The UK government has published the first of their plans for a no deal Brexit. Brexit Secretary Dominic Rabb said the UK government is ready to accept a no deal scenario, despite the evidence saying a no deal would be the worst possible option for public services, jobs and living standards.

Go to Source

Author:

---

Jeremy Corbyn in Scotland: what he won't mention

Jeremy Corbyn is in Scotland this week. The Labour Leader is keen to promote his party's policies but not so keen to talk about Labour's record in government.

Go to Source

Author:

---

The scandal of the Tories' universal credit sanctions

The UK Government's universal credit system has been deeply flawed since its disastrous roll-out began – and all of the evidence shows it is actively harmful to claimants. The reality is, that this austerity obsessed Tory Government is driving more people, particularly children, into poverty with policies like this.

Go to Source

Author: