

Nicola Sturgeon speech marking 20 years since Scotland's devolution referendum

On this day twenty years ago the people of Scotland were casting their votes on whether or not to establish a new Scottish Parliament.

Go to Source

Author:

We've had a decade of success but there is still so much more to achieve

"Get on with the day job." It's a line that the opposition in the Scottish Parliament enjoy throwing around all too often. The irony, of course, is that for the past decade – in contrast to the Tory zombie government in Westminster – the SNP have been getting on with the job of governing in Scotland.

Go to Source

Author:

20 years on from the devolution referendum – our Parliament faces a power grab

Tomorrow marks 20 years to the day since the referendum result which heralded a new era of Scottish democracy.

Go to Source

Author:

Investing in homes and jobs in rural Scotland

I often introduce myself as the MSP for the most beautiful constituency in Scotland. In my opinion, that is a perfectly reasonable description for the constituency of Skye, Lochaber and Badenoch, particularly after a summer of travelling throughout the region.

Go to Source

Author:

Our plan for Scotland: global leadership on the environment and climate change

Nicola Sturgeon has announced the Scottish Government's plans for the year ahead. The Programme for Government sets out how we will continue to show global leadership on climate change.

Go to Source

Author: