

UKAEA develops optical viewport technology for quantum physics

UKAEA has improved optical viewport technology – reducing optical distortion by up to 75 percent – for applications such as fusion energy and quantum physics.