

UK's leading legal expertise promoted at world's largest law conference

The future of the UK's legal services in an era of artificial intelligence (AI) were at the heart of discussions at the world's largest gathering of legal professionals in Paris this week.