

Unexploded bomb in Plymouth safely removed during complex disposal operation and major evacuation

More than 100 personnel from the British Army and Royal Navy have been involved in a complex operation to remove a WW2 bomb discovered at a residential property