

Unsung heroes fight COVID-19

The moment COVID-19 affected Hong Kong in January, a team of healthcare workers volunteered to care for the first batch of confirmed COVID-19 cases admitted to the Infectious Disease Centre at Princess Margaret Hospital.

News.gov.hk spoke to an infectious disease expert and a registered nurse at the hospital to learn more about their life-saving experiences and other measures taken to combat the virus.

The story appears on news.gov.hk today (July 5) in text and video format.