

Update on testing at specified “restricted area” in Jordan (as at 1pm)

The Government today (January 23) made a "restriction-testing declaration" and issued a compulsory testing notice in respect of specified "restricted area" in Jordan. As at 1pm today, around 3 000 persons have undergone testing in the temporary specimen collection stations at the "restricted area". Working staff had visited over 50 buildings within the "restricted area", involving around 1 000 households.
