

Upgrades to thousands of military houses as winter response teams bolstered

Thousands of military homes will be modernised, with preparation work already underway, and repair staffing bolstered ahead of the winter period.