

Use of bTB PCR testing to expand following success of first phase

New method reduces the time taken for APHA to report results to livestock keepers from up to 22 weeks to three weeks