

Use of chemical weapons by anyone cannot be tolerated – Thornberry

Emily

Thornberry MP, Labour's Shadow Foreign Minister, commenting on the suspected chemical attack in Syria, said:

"This was a shocking and barbaric attack, and our thoughts are with all the victims and their loved ones.

"The use of chemical weapons by anyone cannot be tolerated, as the Syrian government itself accepted when it joined the Chemical Weapons Convention, and there must be no impunity for those found responsible."
