

'Using your eyes as a pen' – Black British Poets in Performance

By Dr Hannah Silva, British writer and performer and Leverhulme Early Career Research Fellow at Queen Mary, University of London. Paula Varjack selfie. "What you actually do is you use your eyes as a pen," David J is telling me how he learned to freestyle, "off the dome." We're sitting..