

Vacancy: Operations Officer

Do you have excellent communication skills and a real passion for providing quality customer service?

Are you a solid administrator who is well-organised, methodical and has an eye for detail?

Would you like to work in a high profile organisation, working with some of the world's leading experts in air accident investigation?

If so, this is an exciting opportunity to join the Air Accidents Investigation Branch (AAIB) as an Operations Officer, and we'd love to hear from you.

You can read the full role profile and apply for this position on Civil Service Jobs. The deadline for applications is 21 October.

Read more about working at the AAIB.