

Wales to play part in delivering new British Army vehicle

A Cardiff-based business has been awarded a £20m contract to provide components for a new armoured fighting vehicle.