

West Midlands Trains must invest £20 million after poor performance and delays

The additional funding will be invested in timetable improvements, recruiting new train drivers and offering passengers compensation for poor service.