

When freedom of religion or belief is respected we can build trust and secure sustainable peace: UK statement at the UN Security Council

Statement by UK Permanent Representative to the UN Ambassador Barbara Woodward at the UN Security Council meeting on tolerance and international peace and security.