

Work begins in Lincolnshire on innovative flood management project

Work has started on a natural flood management pilot project in Swaton, Lincolnshire. The project aims to reduce the frequency of flooding in the community.