

Work begins to permanently secure low level nuclear waste vaults

A key programme of work at the Low Level Waste Repository in Cumbria is making real progress