

World-leading livestock scientist honoured by SRUC

An Edinburgh-based scientist who— in the words of Bill Gates— has helped turn the city into “a world capital for livestock health and genetics”, has been presented with an honorary fellowship by SRUC.