

World-leading proposals to protect businesses from cybercrime

The government will consult on proposals to protect hospitals, railways and public services from ransomware attacks.