

York company director must pay £40,000 in proceeds of crime

A court has ordered a former security company director who knowingly worked without a licence to pay £40,000 as the proceeds of crime.